

WEDDINGS

Welcome

Located on Patrick Street in the heart of Kilkenny City the 28 bedroom Club House Hotel was established in 1797 making it Kilkenny's only Vintage Hotel. Our hotel boasts Georgian architecture, detailed plasterwork and a genteel atmosphere. An outstanding feature in the Georgian dining room is the Francini ceiling, sculpted by two famous Italian craftsmen who, having fallen on hard times, were glad to do the work in exchange for board and lodgings in the hotel. Another example of their work appears on the ceiling in Victors Bar. The famous Spy cartoons - caricatures of well-known people featured in the London society magazine Vanity Fair between 1868 and 1914 - adorn the staircase and corridors adding to the character of this wonderful Georgian Hotel.

If you have been looking for a unique extra special venue for that intimate small wedding in Kilkenny then look no further than the Club House Hotel.
